

How Do Different Factors Affect Salary?

Data: Managers across four different industries (business, finance, technology, and healthcare) were surveyed. They were asked their age, gender, education, industry, industry experience, and salary.

Does Education Level Affect Salary?

Yes, education level affects salary. The higher the education level a manager has, the more money they are making.

Does Gender Affect Salary?

Yes. In general, a male manager has a higher salary than a female manager.

Does Industry Affect Salary?

Yes. In general, managers in the technology industry have a higher salary than the other industries in the survey.

Does Industry Experience Affect Salary?

Yes. The data states that the more years of experience a manager has, the higher salary they have.